

Academic Offer description for EMP-AIM Project:

Institution:	University of Glamorgan
EU subject code:	10.2 International Law 10.9 Others – Law
Type of Mobility:	Master for Degree
Name of degrees/programmes:	Titles of the programmes: LL.M Masters in Law LL.M Commercial Law LL.M International Commercial Law Degree awarded: as above
University subject:	Law
Language:	English
Explanatory text (short description of the programmes):	LL.M Masters in Law The LLM Masters in Law Course gives you a flexible approach to postgraduate study, where you can tailor your Masters programme to suit your specific needs and career aspirations. You can explore a broad range of legal subjects, including commercial law, international trade law, competition law, employment law, European Union law and intellectual property law. You will study a compulsory module, Research Methods, to develop your postgraduate-level research skills. You can also choose modules from any of our specialist LL.M programmes to design a coherent programme of study. This high level of flexibility is of particular benefit if you want to gain Masters-level knowledge and skills without limiting yourself to a particular area of law. Specialist advice is available when constructing your programme of study. LL.M Masters in Commercial Law The LLM Commercial Law degree is of value and interest if you are a legal practitioner or if you work, or aspire to work, in business or the public sector. The degree will develop a range of transferable skills and essential knowledge to enhance your career opportunities. Careers for graduates with specific knowledge of commercial law are numerous and wide ranging. They include the legal profession and various positions in local and central government, industry or any business environment. To achieve a specialist Masters in Commercial Law, you will study the compulsory modules listed below, plus a further 25 ECTS from a list of options. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • International Trade Law • Contractual and Tortious Obligations • Commercial Law and Practice • Intellectual Property Law • Research Methods

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Dissertation LL.M Masters in International Commercial Law Globalisation is here to stay and the number of internationally based and active industries continues to grow each year. You can study aspects of commercial law that have international relevance and consider specific issues that arise in commercial and consumer law. You will also explore different aspects of globalisation and how the law influences and responds to these. What You Will Study To achieve this specialist Masters in International Commercial Law, you will study the compulsory modules listed below, plus a further 30 ECTS from a list of options: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • International Trade Law • Private International Law • Commercial Law and Practice • Carriage of Goods by Sea • Research Methods • Dissertation For further information about any of the programmes outlined above, Download the LLM Law Brochure.
Duration (months):	10 months
Earliest start date:	17 September 2012
Latest end date:	31 August 2013
Language Requirements:	Have a good command of English, certified by an IELTS of 7.5
Academic Requirements:	Candidates will be required to have obtained a Bachelor degree in Law, equivalent to a UK classification of 2:2 or above.
Mechanism of recognition and transfer used by the University:	According to ECTS standards
Fees:	Per academic year – €3,000 Fees for Erasmus Mundus scholarship holder shall be paid directly from the project budget.
Contact name:	Karen Jones, Principal Lecturer in Law
Contact e-mail:	kejones1@glam.ac.uk
Website:	http://fbs.glam.ac.uk/subjects/law/
Additional information:	http://international.glam.ac.uk/ This is the University's website for international students and contains links to information about studying at Glamorgan; visas and immigration; student support and accommodation.